Modeling the performance of a manually operated legume dehuller using dimensional analysis.

B.A Adewumi

Abstract

Dimensional analysis was used to establish a model equation for predicting the relationships between the dimensionless hulling efficiency (η/M) and the dehulling stress (τ), dehulling length (L), throughput (F) and dehulling speed (S).