HISTORICAL BACKGROUND OF THE UNIVERSITY

The Federal University of Agriculture, Abeokuta, Ogun State, (FUNAAB) was established on 1 January 1988 by the Federal Government when four Universities of Technology, earlier merged in 1984, were demerged. This led to the creation of the first two Universities of Agriculture in Abeokuta and Makurdi.

On the same date, Professor Nurudeen Olorun-Nimbe Adedipe was appointed the pioneer Vice-Chancellor of the University. Professor Adedipe officially assumed duty on 28 January 1988. For many years the date which Professor Adedipe assumed duty was wrongly adopted as the foundation day. Following a revisit to the instrument setting up the University, a Council decision at its 53rd statutory meeting in June 2010 reverted the foundation date to 1 January 1988 as prescribed by the law which established the University.

Prior to the emergence of FUNAAB, the Federal Government had established Federal University of Technology, Abeokuta (FUTAB) in 1983. Then, in 1984, it was merged with the University of Lagos and had its name changed to the College of Science and Technology, Abeokuta (COSTAB), before the demerger of January, 1988.

The University started off from the old campus of Abeokuta Grammar School, Isale-Igbein near the city centre. It completed its movement to its permanent site along Alabata Road in 1997.

At the initial stage, five colleges were introduced in the University in October 1988 as follows:

- College of Agricultural Management, Rural development and Communication Studies (COLAMRUCS), which name was later changed to COLAMRUD (College of Agriculture Management and Rural Development)
- College of Animal Science and Livestock Production (COLANIM)
- College of Environmental Resources Management (COLERM)
- College of Natural Sciences (COLNAS)
- College of Plant Science and Crop Production (COLPLANT)

Two additional Colleges, College of Engineering (COLENG) and College of Veterinary Medicine (COLVET) were introduced in March, 2002. During the 2008/2009 session, the College of Agricultural Management, Rural Development and Communication Studies was split into two, with two new colleges emerging as follows:

- College of Food Science and Human Ecology (COLFHEC)
- College of Agricultural Management and Rural Development (COLAMRUD)

The newest college is College of Management Sciences (COLMAS)

The University is one of the three Universities of Agriculture in Nigeria, the other being in Makurdi (Benue State) and Umudike (Abia State). The University started at its mini-campus in Isale-Igbein in the heart of Abeokuta, the capital of Ogun State. In December 1997 it moved to its permanent site on a 10,000-hectare campus which is located next to the Ogun-Oshun River Basin Development Authority on the Abeokuta-Ibadan road in the North Eastern end of the city, 15 km from Abeokuta City Centre.

- To act as agents and catalysts, through postgraduate training, research and innovation for effective and economic utilization, exploitation and conservation of Nigeria’s natural agricultural, economic and human resources.

- To offer to the general population, as a form of public service, the results of training and research in agriculture and allied disciplines and to foster the practical application of those results.

- To establish appropriate relationships with other national institutions involved in training, research and development in agriculture.

- To identify the agricultural problems and needs of Nigeria and to find solutions to them within the context of overall national development.

- To provide and promote sound basic scientific training as a foundation for the development of agriculture and allied disciplines, taking into account indigenous culture, the need to enhance national unity, the need to vastly increase the practical content of student training, and adequate preparation of graduates for self-employment in agriculture and allied professions.

- To promote and emphasize teaching, research and extension of agricultural knowledge including agricultural extension services and outreach programmes, in-service training, continuing education and on-farm adaptive research.
• To offer academic programmes in relation to the training of manpower for agriculture in Nigeria.
• To organize research relevant to agriculture with emphasis on small scale farming.
• To organize extension services and out-reach programmes for technology transfer.
• To establish institutional linkages in order to foster collaboration and integration of training, research and extension activities.

PURPOSE

The Chancellor, Council, Pro-Chancellor, Vice-Chancellor, Staff and Students of Federal University of Agriculture (hereinafter described as the University) solicit current and deferred gifts from individuals, Corporations, Foundations, Federal, State and Local Governments, Ministries, Departments and Agencies (local and international) to secure the future growth, Mission and Vision of Federal University of Agriculture Abeokuta.

The University is aware of its position as a leading specialized University in Nigeria and is sensitive to its responsibility to the wider community in which it operates. Therefore, it has drawn up the following guidelines on the acceptence of donations/prizes and awards for the University.

TYPES OF ENDOWMENTS

1. True Endowment
2. Term Endowment

3. Quasi-Endowment

4. Endowed Scholarship

5. Professorial Endowment

6. One Time Gift/Donations

7. Tangible Personal Property

True Endowment

A true endowment refers to amounts that have been contributed with donor-specified restrictions that the principal be invested in perpetuity; income from those investments may also be restricted by donors, specifying what the income should be expended on.

Term Endowment

A term endowment is similar to a true endowment, except that at some future time or upon the occurrence of a specified future event, the funds originally contributed become available for unrestricted or purpose-restricted use by the entity. (For example, if the donor allows principal invasion.)

Quasi Endowment.

A quasi-endowment refers to funds designated by the Council of the Federal University of Agriculture Abeokuta or Board of Advancement, to be retained and invested for specified purposes for a long but unspecified period. This kind of endowment is without any legal restriction, the principal may be spent at a certain point

Endowed Scholarship

Endowed Scholarship is a gift used to fund scholarship. This type of endowment is distinguished from other type of donation in that the capital gift is preserved while the payout is used as gift to categories of people specified by the donor in perpetuity. The Board of Advancement retains the capital while the interest takes care of the categories of gifts.

One Time Gift

As the name implies, this gift may be spent just for once or cover a short period of time in the foreseeable future. This is the kind of endowment that is given by a donor to cover a specified period that the capital given can last for, after which the donor may renew the endowment or opt out.

Tangible Properties.

These include buildings, paintings, art works, special collections, vehicles and such other items owned by a donor.

POLICY AND GUIDELINES.

2. POLICY GUIDELINES
These policies and guidelines shall govern the acceptance of gifts by the University and provide guidelines to prospective donors when making gifts to the University. The provisions of these policies shall apply to all gifts and donations received by the University. All final decisions on acceptance or refusal of potential major Endowment/gifts shall be made by the Council on the advice of the Office of Advancement, which shall take into account legal, ethical and financial issues in reaching its decision.

I. General Guidelines

a. In considering the establishment of an endowment fund, potential donors should be aware that tax laws require that charitable gifts be irrevocable and unconditional in order for a donor to receive the associated tax benefits. A donor cannot continue to enjoy control over donated funds or property contributed; once a donor has made the contribution, the assets become the property of the University and cannot be returned under any circumstances.

b. Funds for established scholarship or academic program support are typically named for donors, in honor or memory of a loved one, or to recognize an individual who had contributed immensely to the field.

c. The Board of Advancement works with donors to document mutually agreed upon guidelines which govern the use and spending of the fund.

d. A permanently Endowment (restricted) fund, often called an endowment, exists in perpetuity. Gifts to the fund are invested for long-term growth with the understanding that the principal may not be expended, only the income earned.

e. A temporarily Endowment (restricted) fund is intended to be short-term in nature. The monies in a temporary fund are not expected to exist in perpetuity and the fund may be expended in its entirety, according to the fund guidelines.

II. Establishing a Restricted Endowment – Permanent

a. The minimum gift required to establish a permanently restricted (endowment) fund is $25,000 or N15,000,000 – Fifteen Million Naira Only. The donor(s) may contribute this amount over a period of one to two-years.

b. Guidelines for the use of the spendable income generated by the endowment will be agreed upon by the donor(s) and the Office of Advancement in a mutually executed Fund Agreement, kept on file in the Foundation office.

c. A fund that is building towards an endowment will be considered temporarily restricted until the minimum gift threshold has been met, at which time it will be converted to a permanent endowment fund.

d. Once the minimum gift threshold has been met, and the fund is endowed, funds will be invested for one full investment cycle. Earnings will be calculated at the end of the fiscal year immediately following the initial investment cycle and distributed both to make awards under terms of the Fund Agreement, and to increase the corpus of the endowment as allowed by economic conditions and existing board policies.

e. Donors will be contacted if the minimum gift threshold has not been met. If, upon consultation with the donor, he/she is unable to fully endow the fund, the fund will remain temporarily restricted and expended in accordance with the Fund Agreement on file.
f. No disbursements will be made from funds building towards endowment. Donors who wish to see their scholarship awarded immediately, for example, are encouraged to make an additional current use donation(s).

III. Establishing a Restricted Endowment – Temporary

a. The minimum gift required to establish a temporary fund is $10,000 or N5,000,000 - Five Million Naira Only. The donor(s) may contribute this amount over a period of one to five-years. Donors are asked to sign a pledge form documenting this commitment.

b. Academic departments seeking to establish a temporary fund in support of the Department may do so with a minimum of $2,000. Or N750,000. – Seven Hundred and Fifty Thousand Naira Only. Funds may be used, but are not limited to, purchasing equipment, supporting professional development, and providing merit-based awards to students. Funds may not be used to support social activities of the Department.

c. Guidelines for the use of the temporary fund will be mutually agreed upon between the donor(s) or department chair, and the Foundation in a mutually executed Fund Agreement, kept on file in the Foundation office.

IV. Establishing a Restricted Endowment Fund (Temporary or Permanent)

a. Donors are encouraged to be as broad as possible when specifying criteria for scholarship funds. For scholarship funds, a donor may request a preference for:

1. Academic merit (minimum overall CGPA)
2. Financial need
3. Geographic area of residence
4. School or academic degree/certificate program
5. Eligibility of the recipient.

b. Donors may not recommend or suggest scholarship recipients. The Internal Revenue Service will not recognize a contribution for charitable tax deduction if the donor retains control over the gift funds or how they are used. Therefore, a donor may not participate in the selection of scholarship or award recipients, name an individual to the scholarship committee, or structure the criteria so narrowly as to limit selection to a small population comprised solely or primarily of individuals related to the donor or that the donor would choose without this restriction.

c. The College/Department of the University with the Office of Advancement selects scholarship recipients, unless otherwise stated, based upon the requirements listed on each scholarship/Gift Fund Agreement.

d. Donors will not be involved in the selection of recipients for their own scholarship.

V. Establishing a Non-Scholarship Endowment (Temporary or Permanent)

a. Donors are encouraged to be as broad as possible when specifying criteria for non-scholarship restricted funds. Non-scholarship restricted funds may be created to support:

1. A college department, academic program or student support program
2. Purchase of equipment or technology enhancement
iii. Continuous equipment of Library, laboratories

iv. Capital construction or renovation

Investment and Distribution of Endowed Funds

a. The investment of endowed funds will be determined by the comprehensive investment policy of the University which must be in tandem with endowment model
